Questions surround West's death

By STEPHEN BJORK
WILMINGTON - Marine Lance Cpl. Steven West, 20, died in Thailand last Wednesday, and no one yet has any answers as to how or why. West attended Wilmington High School and Billerica High School and enlisted in the Marines in 2006, right out of high school. "He wanted to go into the Marines and serve his country and make everyone proud," said Dennis Rooney, Jr., West's stepfather. He had recently been stationed in Okinawa, Japan, but was on a goodwill tour in Bangkok, Thailand with the Third Marine Expeditionary Force Band at the time of his death.

"He was a talented, if not a gifted, musician," said Rooney. "He used to tutor younger kids in instruments and music theory." West performed with the Lowell Philharmonic Orchestra as a teenager. He played electric bass, acoustic bass, and guitar.

West made a point of calling his mother on her birthday in June, and then spoke to his family again just two weeks ago to tell them about his upcoming trip to Thailand. He told his family not to worry; he'd take plenty of pictures during the trip.

West also leaves three younger brothers, age 7, 5, and 4.

"He was a great big brother," Rooney said. "His brothers meant the world to him."

West's family has been left waiting for answers. Rooney and West's mother, Jacqueline Rooney, along with West's father and stepmother, David and Rose West of Nashua, formerly of Tewksbury, do not know the cause of death or the circumstances surrounding their son's demise. All that has been confirmed as of Tuesday afternoon, according to Rooney, was that West was not killed in action.

West's body will arrive home on Friday. A wake is scheduled for Sunday afternoon between 4:00 and 8:00 p.m. at Nichols Funeral Home on Middlesex Avenue. A funeral mass is scheduled for noon on Monday at St. Thomas of Villanova Church on Middlesex Avenue.

Wilmington sculptor Bob Shure is everywhere

He's high-profile here, and around the country

By JIM HAGGERTY
WILMINGTON - Wilmington sculptor Bob Shure's horizons extend far beyond his Wilmington boundaries! In recent days, the Civil War statue at the very prominent Woburn Common was missing, but Shure and city officials knew where it was: at a foundry in Johnston, Rhode Island. And in New York's Yankee Stadium, the Joltin' Joe DiMaggio sculpted by Shure several years ago is in place in left field, but has people wondering just where it will be when the new Yankee Stadium is opened next year.

Shure and his wife Kathy live on Marion Street in the southern confines of Wilmington, but their daily routine is anything but localized there.

They moved in recent years from Burlington's Winnere section to Wilmington, but still keep their Skylight Studio on Salem Street in Woburn.

His latest high-profile venture was not far away, i.e. on Woburn Common, a site known to all in the area. And, he has people asking: Have you noticed anything missing in downtown Woburn these days?

The prominent Civil War monument atop a cement pedestal in the middle of Woburn Center is not there anymore!

However, don't worry, it's in good hands... literally!

Shure has worked closely with City of Woburn officials and others on a nationwide basis for the past several decades and has the Civil War statue at a foundry in Rhode Island for rehabilitation.

Shure operates and does his new and rehabilitation work from his 105 Salem St. studios (Skylight Studios) - a studio just opposite the Soldiers Lot at Woodbrook Cemetery in Woburn.

The amiable Shure is an old hand at starting from scratch (no pun intended) or restoring valuable artifacts for historical and other groups. So, the city is blessed to have such a concerned citizen at its beckon call.

The statue - which faces south - was dedicated on October 14, 1869.

City officials were aware of the teetering nature of the statue that could easily have toppled in high winds, let alone a hurricane.

The City Council recently set aside an $8,600 appropriation to undertake the much-needed project.

Among Shure's last efforts was to clean-up the Col. Baldwin statue on the green at Elm Street and Main Street in North Woburn, not too far from the Wilmington line and known to motorists in the area.

He designed the clock at Marlowe Park (formerly Citizens Park) in the heart of downtown Woburn with statues

Amato prepares for pageant

Competing in 2008 Miss Jr. Pre-Teen

By CHARITY B. LEGVOLD
WILMINGTON - Not all pageants are about beauty and bathing suits, and when nine-year old Christina Amato of Wilmington competes in August for the 2008 Miss Jr. Pre-Teen title, her communication skills, character, personality and dreams will all far outweigh her beautiful wardrobe.

While most nine year olds are thinking about swimming and maybe summer camp, Amato follows in her older sister's footsteps as a State Finalist for the National America Miss Pageant, which will be held in Burlington on August 7, 8, and 9, 2008.

The four required competitions at the event include Formal Wear (30 percent of score) where the girls choose their own age-appropriate dress that shows their unique personalities, Personal Introduction (30 percent) where contestants stand on stage, wearing a suit, with a microphone and introduce and briefly tell about themselves, one-on-one interviews with each judge (30 percent) and Community Involvement (10 percent) for which each participant brings a new book or stuffed animal to create a large group donation.

One frequently asked question is, 'Do I have to be beautiful to enter?' According to the website www.namiss.com the answer is, "No. National American Miss pageants, while glamorous events, are not at all like typical 'beauty' pageants. In fact, as you see above, the majority of the scoring in our pageant is based on communication. Good communication and presentation skills are what we want to recognize and encourage. Braces, glasses, skin problems, varying heights, and many other conditions are all just part of being young. The judges are giving you scores based on where you are in life, just the way you are. What you need to concentrate on is doing your best and remembering to be positive. SMILE and do the best with what you have! If you can develop and apply this attitude now, it will benefit your whole life!"

It's Your Money

PUT YOUR SPOUSE TO WORK

There are four or five really good reasons-tax reasons-to put your spouse on your company payroll, beyond getting a capable employee. Understand, of course, that he or she must do real work for the firm; this is not an in-name-only deal.

First and foremost, another employee in the family lets you beef up tax-advantaged retirement funds, whether in a defined contribution plan or a 401(k) - which the company may match. If your family tax bracket is lower than the company's, it's extra-advantageous to shift taxable income to your spouse.

If your spouse generally goes along on business trips, his or her mileage is usually nondeductible. But if the spouse is an employee, it is.

More: The spouse-employee is eligible for health insurance coverage and will qualify for the same group-term life insurance coverage as all the other employees, except in an S corp. - Small-business owners count on our tax know-how. Come talk to us at

Funds will go a long way

Dear Editor,
The St. Thomas' Charities Committee would like to express our thanks to all of the members of the Fourth of July Committee and all of the town departments for all their hard work in bringing us a great week of celebration. We look forward to this opportunity each year to see old friends and meet new ones. We would especially like to thank all of our parishioners who have baked and donated pies. Thanks also to everyone who volunteered at our "Piece O Pie" booth, especially those who braved the rainstorms. The funds raised will go a long way to benefit people in our parish and those in need. This year's event would not have been a success without the support from the community. Thank you to all who stopped by to purchase a piece of pie or make a donation!

Hockey player missing

Stephen Brennan of Wilmington had a statue of a hockey player stolen from the front yard of his Harnden Street home within the last two weeks. The statue held a great deal of sentimental value, as it was a gift from his father and represented the many Brennan family members who play and enjoy hockey. If the statue was returned, the Brennan family would be extremely grateful.

Fitness IQ

by Art McDermott

Why you quit...

There was a time in all of our lives when being fit was never a real concern. Our youthful metabolisms made sure we could eat a pretty unhealthy diet and still look pretty good. Such is youth...

If you are like me, you may be in your forties or more. You know by now that your body does not react like it used to. You are sore when you haven't really done anything. You are tired all the time. Some of you might even weigh the same as you did a while back, but somehow, it does not look the same. Such is age...

So how can we battle the age clock? A recent study showed that working out with weights can actually make the muscles of someone in their 50's look like the muscles of someone in their 20's at least at the cellular level. This means that you can actually reverse the path of aging by doing "resistance training," also known as lifting weights. Remember - doing lots of cardio-vascular workouts is great, but it will NOT increase your ever-shrinking muscle mass!

At present, only 16% of the folks in the United States belong to a gym. Of those, there are millions who have memberships they do not use. Why did this happen? Why did you stop going to the gym? The number one reason is time. "I don't have time to spend hours at the gym!" This is pretty typical. We hear it constantly. Our society places many demands upon our time. It is up to us to make the time to take care of our health. Keep in mind, you are making quality of life decisions now, that will determine how much enjoyment you will have in 10, 15 and 20+ years from now. Without your health, little else matters. You will be more miserable day in and day out because of the pain your body is in. You could become dependent upon others for nearly everything if you lose your mobility. If you do not make the time to go to the gym now, you will have to set aside much more time for rehab and medical procedures in the future.

The second most common reason people stop going to the gym, is boredom! This is the one I have the most trouble with, as someone in the fitness industry. That being said, I can see how it happens. The average person goes to the gym, gets little real help in getting a program going, ends up doing the same few exercises for three or four months on the same machines and then realizes he or she isn't making much progress. Why bother? Three days per week turns into one or two and then zero.

If you truly wish to make a change, if you desire a high quality of life as you age, here is this week's recommendation. Join some type of activity in a group setting. This could be an indoor cycling class (spinning) or a kick-boxing class, or yoga. You could also hop on board with the most popular trend out there right now - Boot Camps. You can find them in most gyms. Make sure you go with one that includes movements you are doing in every day life, so it has relevance to YOU. You should be carrying things, dragging things, throwing things, running, etc. Don't be scared away by the names, these Boot Camps have all different levels. No worries about not being active for the last twenty years. The fact that you are getting up now and changing the next 20 years of your life is what matters. Do it today! Good Luck!

Letters to the editor

A life-changing trip

Dear Editor:

I traveled to Montserrat as part of the UMass RIMES team (which stands for Research Integrating Microbiology and Environmental Science) from June 26 - July 3, 2008, that deals with controlled investigations centered on the active Soufriere Hills stratovolcano (elevation 3200 feet). The presence of this awe-inspiring mountain is fiercely demanding of respect amongst the lush and unspoiled exquisiteness that envelopes much of the landscape. Even though I've traveled to a few tropical islands, Montserrat was by far the most unique, intense, green, windy, isolated, unpredictable and beautiful. There are no traffic signal lights and no street signs (except 'stop'). Feral and domesticated animals roam freely. The rainforests are home to exotically rare flora and fauna, amphibians and insects. The most recent census reports there are 4,800 residents on this isle that is 16 km (10 miles) long and 11 km (7 miles) wide with 40 km (25 miles) of coastline that abuts both the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea. Islanders are warm, friendly and accommodating. Native language is 'caribou', which is a mix of broken English and French. Montserrat was considered a tropical paradise revered by the wealthy, particularly musicians such as Keith Richards and Beatles' producer George Martin, who still own homes there. Soufriere Hills is also the volcano Jimmy Buffet was referring to in his song "Volcano".

Located within the Leeward Islands, part of a chain called the Lesser Antilles volcanic arc and British West Indies territory, Montserrat is close to the equator and South America. The name was given by Christopher Columbus on his second voyage to the New World in 1493, after its namesake located in Catalonia, Spain. Montserrat is referred to as the 'Emerald Isle of the Caribbean', due to both the resemblance to coastal Ireland and to the Irish decent of its first early European settlers. The national symbol of Montserrat is the shamrock. Despite rich history and landscape, current lifestyles and natural environmental trends and decisions are directly influenced by the dominant feature that is the Soufriere Hills volcano.

Dormant since the mid-17th century, the Soufriere Hills started a series of volcanic surges that began on July 18, 1995. On August 21, 1995, a major pyroclastic explosion occurred, resulting in the annihilation of 90% of the southern portion of the Montserrat ecosystem. The Georgian-era capital city of Plymouth was destroyed and two-thirds of the island's population was forced to flee. According to the Government Information Service of Montserrat (1997), one month after the August, 1995, blast, the temperature of the ash and debris at a depth of 6.5 feet was still at 6400 degrees Celsius. The plinian (vesuvian) eruption on June 25, 1997, that killed 19 people and again buried the city, the ship docking facilities and the former W.H. Bramble airport in molten lava, ash, mudflow and debris came down the slopes of the mountain at 200 miles per hour at an astronomically high temperature with an ash plume at least 37,000 feet high. This area is now known as the 'exclusion zone' that extends from the south coast of the isle north to parts of Belham Valley. The Belham River is completely devastated and dry; only the winding footprint remains today. Boats that were in the river when the volcano exploded are still stuck there, covered in mud and ash and eerily frozen in time. The stratovolcano is andesitic in nature and the current activity includes periods of dome growth punctuated by episodes of dome collapse which result in ash venting and explosive eruptions. On May 20, 2006, the dome completely collapsed and this natural phenomenon forms what is described as a 'caldera'. On December 24, 2006, streaks of red from the pyroclastic flows were visible. The most recent Soufriere Hills dome collapse occurred January 8, 2007, resulting in lava flows and a heavy cloud of ash as high as 26,247 feet.

Volcanic activity has consistently occurred since then, causing severe damage to crops and the water system of the island. Ecological damage is mainly due to acid rain brought about by sulfur dioxide (SO₂) emissions from the volcano. Other elements of these emanations include carbon dioxide (CO₂) and hydrogen chloride (HCl). Evidence of this was personally observed when I hiked Jack Boy Hill into the rainforest and saw erosion of the plants caused by acid rain. Studies of the ash-soil mix samples by RIMES scientists from Alabama A&M University revealed the presence of silica and aluminum materials. This is cause for significant concern, as aluminum toxicity adversely affects vegetation.

It would be an understatement to say that this experience with the RIMES scientific team is a life-changing event. I am fortunate to have been chosen to become part of this group whose members hail from all over the world. Being an elementary school science teacher, as well as a college student pursuing a dual master's degree in environmental science and education, allows me to incorporate this knowledge in both my studies and teaching in ways that would not otherwise be possible. I'm blessed with a greater understanding of my place on Earth. And the story is far from over. I return to Montserrat in January for another 8 days of exploration in an adventure I intend to continue to bring home to educate people of all ages about our mighty, magnificent planet!

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

Once again the 4th of July committee did an outstanding job with the celebration. The meals provided by the local non-profits were fantastic. A special Thank you to the K of C who has Bud on duty cleaning tables, helping people up and down (those seats are tricky), and just being there for the seniors.

Wilmington

It's that time of year to remind folks with children, especially teenagers, who enjoy the neighborhood swimming pool(s)! Most home owners don't mind the frequent use of their pool, but please remember to have swimmers bring their own swimsuits and towels. Another nice gesture would be to send your teenagers over with some snacks (chips/cookies) or soda, especially if your kids are going to be staying all day through lunch and dinner times. It does get expensive if the pool owner has to feed everyone on the block several times in a week.

Wilmington

Our compliments to the Wilmington Police Department.

We came in for the fireworks and the police did a brilliant job on traffic... We had an easy time both ways and didn't wait longer than 10 minutes to get out of the cemetery lot.

Tewksbury

The fireworks that came early, on July 2, were most unwell-come. Lightning struck a shed in the vicinity of 350 Woburn Street. Wilmington fire fighters arrived on the scene and quickly knocked the flames down.

LEWISTON, ME - Two local students were among 440 graduates to receive a bachelor's degree May 25 from Bates College during the college's 142nd commencement exercises.

The graduates heard speeches by four figures prominent in their fields who received honorary degrees: Ford Foundation President Susan Berresford; groundbreaking RNA researcher Phillip Sharp; climate scientist Warren Washington, a pioneer in the use of computer models to better understand climate change; and Pauline Yu, an expert in East Asian literature and president of the American Council of Learned Societies.

Tewksbury Senior Topics

A personal note and don't forget - the trips are coming!

A very special note of thanks is sent to all those friends and family who attended and contributed to the lovely event held at the Senior Center on June 29th for "yours truly" recognizing my 25 years as the Director of the Council on Aging. Story has it that it took a year to plan...and its date had been changed several times due to the uncertainty of the move back to 175 Chandler Street. Although I shy away from such events, I have to say that it was quite an honor to have so many dear friends gather together to celebrate "our" 25 (actually 26 and working on the 27th) years together. After the initial shock, it was a simply wonderful time. It marked a milestone in all "our" lives for we all have worked together over those 25 years. We all have contributed to the successes of the Tewksbury Senior Center and continue to strive to make it a place of welcome and a haven for preventative health measures, education and the arts.

As put by one of our peers, M.M.: "Getting old is not easy."

Seniors do not have a lengthy future ahead of them. We can't afford to "put things off" until situations improve. The Senior Center is not just a place for Seniors to socialize with their peers. More importantly it is a place where, under the guidance of a Director who is trained in the care and needs of the elderly, Seniors share experiences and ways to cope with the loss of a spouse or a life-long friend, a major illness or other difficult situation associated with growing older.

The Tewksbury Senior Center is a place where everyone strives to stay young...and young at heart, where everyone plays a part in productivity and community involvement...were everyone keeps their mind busy and active. And, we have all made it a place of refuge.

Thank you all for being a part of the happenings...a part of our extended family...and thank you all from the bottom of my heart for the honor bestowed upon me. I will treasure the time for the rest of my days.

An activities meeting has been scheduled for this Thursday morning, July 10th, at 10:00 AM. All are welcome to join in the planning and scheduling of Senior Center activities.

Diane Blake, M.A., Grief Counselor is conducting grief support group meetings every other Thursday at the Tewksbury Senior Center, 175 Chandler Street.

This group is free of charge and open to the people of all ages in the Greater Tewksbury community who are coping with the death of a loved one. The date of next scheduled meeting is this Thursday, July 10th from 11:00 A.M. to 12:30 P.M.

The date of the next Friends of the Elderly Senior Center Dance is this Friday, July 11th. As is the new practice, one may obtain tickets and reserve a table for 8-10 prior to the dance. Tickets will also be available at the door at the following price:

Tewksbury Seniors $8; and non-seniors and out of town people $10. Entertainment for the evening will be the Perfect Match Band.

Those traveling on the Foxwood day trip of next Tuesday, July 15th are reminded that the bus departs from the Senior Center at 7:00 a.m. sharp. Tickets for the August 13th Mohegan Sun trip will go on sale Monday, July 21st at 8:00 a.m.

Later in the morning on July 15th, Suzanne Fillebrown from Radius Northwood will conduct another interesting health seminar. The topic of her July 15 meeting will be noted next week. These seminars have been very informative and very well attended.

On Thursday, July 24th, Robin Simmons from the Blair House will conduct a seminar on Fall Prevention. This seminar will be held at 11:00 a.m. in the conference room.

Sign-up sheets for the above seminars are located at the reception desk at the Senior Center. If planning to attend, one should place his/her name and telephone number on the appropriate list or call and have the receptionist do so.

The Craft Class is planning two trips. The first will be a visit to the Tewksbury Hospital Museum on Wednesday, July 16th. The second trip will take place on Wednesday, August 27th when the group will visit Rockport for a day on one's own. This August 12th day trip will cost $10 per person. For more information on these two trips, one may call Linda Brabant at the Senior Center 978-640-4480. Tickets for each are now available.

The Red Hat Carnation Belles Spinners trip will be held on Tuesday, July 29th. Ticket sales closed this past Wednesday. A waiting list is now being compiled.

Senior Center Wii activities are held as follows: Friday afternoons at 2:00 is now scheduled for practice; Monday afternoons from 1:00 to 4:00 for bowling league time; and, Thursday morning from 9:30 to 11:30 for the second bowling league. As one can see, Wii has become very popular. Why not come on down and give Wii a try it's good for one's health.

In July the ACT Theatre Group will present a "Spotlight on Broadway" performance. There will be three performances during the weekend of July 17th-19th. Ticket information should now be available at the Senior Center.

In September the ACT Theatre Group will work with Tewksbury Senior Citizens and others to present another musical night of entertainment as they tell the life story and legacy of Cole Porter. For information on the next audition for the Cole Porter performance one may call Marie DiCiccio at 978-851-8265 or email her at mdiciccio@msn.com.

Have a great week and keep cool. God Bless America.

An excerpt from the nomination letter written by Timmy's mother, Ellen Widdall, follows: "We are excited to nominate Marty for Mail Carrier of the Year. We have always thought he was a special person and he would be a fantastic choice for this wonderful award. He brings Timmy cards, letters, packages and his favorite books on tape from the Perkins Braille and Talking Book Library. He even came over one day and gave Timmy a framed photo of his favorite Red Sox player- Big Papi! Even though Timmy has cortical vision impairment, is legally blind, doesn't walk, or even move very much, he knows when Marty's mail truck is coming down the street. He smiles when Marty gives him the mail and a big 'How ya doing Tim!' Marty has always treated Timmy just like any other kid on his route and this is so important to our family. He takes the time to stop and see how things are going and talks to him about school or sports."

Hot time, summer in the city

Beat the heat, keep hydrated

TEWKSBURY - Did you know... About 60% of your body is water? A person can live a few weeks without food, but can only live a few days without water? Dehydration is the #1 cause of hospitalization for people over the age of 65?

You are invited to attend a hydration presentation to learn more about keeping hydrated in the summer months ahead.

The hydration presentation at The Isle of Emerald Court will take place on July 16 from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., 2000 Emerald

Miceli gets funding for Tewksbury and Wilmington in the FY09 conference committee report BOSTON - State Representative James R. Miceli (D-Wilmington), Chairman of the House Committee on Personnel and Administration, announces his success with several major amendments in Fiscal Year 2009's Budget Conference Committee Report. House and Senate budget writers reached an agreement this week on the $28.233 billion budget which highlights local aid for cities and towns, healthcare, education, and public safety. Chairman Miceli is extremely pleased with the funding he obtained for his district, including the local aid figures allotted to education.

Miceli worked tirelessly to obtain $87,500 for Camp Pohlho, a special needs camp that operates out of the Tewksbury Recreation Department. The camp recently lost its funding when the town's budget had to take some very major cuts.

Chairman Miceli also obtained a remarkable $200,000 for the Wilmington Historical Commission to be put towards preserving Butters Farm, a cause Miceli advocates. The funding will assist in renovations of this historic Wilmington site.

Miceli also secured funding in the Conference Committee Report for the Tewksbury Hospital so that the facility can run a dialysis center onsite for patients. This alleviates the need for patients to travel off the premises to receive dialysis treatment. It is estimated that the revenue the on-site dialysis center will bring in will outweigh the total amount allocated for it in the budget.

Within the Public Safety section of the Conference Committee Report, Miceli secured study language to create a pilot program coined "Silver Alert." Nearly identical to the state's Amber Alert System which helps to find abducted and missing children, this system will incorporate adults suffering from dementia missing from his or her residence.

With Miceli's support, another $150,000 in funding will go towards the continuation of the cancer study in Wilmington to examine the incidences of childhood cancer within the community. This study will continue to look at the exposure routes and patterns of contaminants in the Maple Meadowbrook Aquifer traveling into the water supply.

Tewksbury received $13,139,908 in Chapter 70 education funding, an increase of $221,050 from last year's FY08 budget. Tewksbury also obtained $3,004,066 in Lottery Funding. Wilmington received $9,957,492 in Chapter 70 funding and $1,595,997 in Lottery Aid. Through the Local Aid Formula, Wilmington also received $1,254,452 in Additional Assistance Funding. The town has seen an increase in Chapter 70 funding for the second year in a row gaining $3,198,625 from the previous FY08 budget last year.

After the Conference Committee Report is accepted, the bill must still reach Governor Patrick's desk for his signature.

Is the Book Store Next Door on Your List?

WILMINGTON - How is your summer To-Do list coming along? Whatever is on your list, you'll be able to find something to complement it, at the Book Store Next Door, 183 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington.

It's not too late to learn what to do with those herbs or flowers - thinking about planning a wedding? A baby? A pet? You can leave with an armful of books for less than the price of a new paperback! Even with the fastest Internet service, sometimes referencing a book is easier. The Book Store's large print and books on tapes lists have recently been updated and at $2.00-$3.00 are much cheaper than new glasses!

The Book Store Next Door is open Wednesday evenings, 4:00 - 7:00 and Saturdays, 10-4, throughout the summer. The library is closed Saturdays, but that doesn't mean you can't pick up a DVD ($2.00) or even a video ($1.00) for cheap weekend entertainment. Many thanks for your continued support - shopping and donating. Your dollars are returned to the library in many forms - pick up a Friends brochure to find out the specifics. Contact Leslie Dietrich by phone at 978-657-6536 or by email at lesd4@verizon.net for volunteer opportunities or questions.

Hot weather advice for older adults

Hot weather affects everyone. However, for elderly and disabled people and those with chronic health conditions, such as lung disease or diabetes, the weather does not have to hit 100 degree to cause heat stress or heat stroke. There are several things that can be done to prevent health complications from the heat.

According to Mary Joyce, RN, MSN, Community Outreach/Parish Nurse at Hallmark Health VNA and Hospice, as people age, they gradually lose the ability to perspire and regulate body temperature. Older skin also becomes thinner and offers less protection from the sun. Joyce explains that poor circulation, heart, lung, and kidney diseases, and high blood pressure increase the risk for heat-related illness. "In addition, medications taken for a variety of diseases and symptoms can also interfere with one's ability to manage hotter weather," she says. These medications include psychotropics; medications for Parkinson's disease, because they can inhibit perspiration; and tranquilizers, such as phenothiazines, butyrophenones and thiozanthenes. Several antibiotics also have sun side effects.

To help seniors stay safe during hot weather, Joyce suggests:

- Wear Appropriate Clothing and Sunscreen: Wear as little clothing as possible when you are home. Choose lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. If you must go outdoors, protect yourself from the sun by wearing a wide-brimmed hat along with sunglasses, and by putting on sunscreen of SPF 15 or higher. Effective sunscreen products indicate "broad spectrum" or "UVA/UVB protection" on them.

- Schedule your outdoor activities in the morning or evening hours. Try to remain in shady areas so that your body's thermostat will have a chance to recover.

- Stay cool indoors and, if possible, in an air-conditioned place. If your home is not air conditioned, go to a mall or public library. Call your local health department to see if there are heat-relief shelters in your area. Although electric fans may provide comfort, they will not prevent heat-related illness. Taking a cool bath or moving to an air-conditioned place is a good way to cool down.

- Use your stove or oven less to maintain a cool temperature in your home. Eat lighter meals.

- Use a Buddy System. Have a friend or relative call to check on you several times during the day. You should also check on elderly friends as well.

- Drink more fluids (nonalcoholic) regardless of your activity level. Don't wait until you are thirsty to drink. If your doctor generally limits the amount of fluid you drink or has you on water pills, ask him how much you should drink while the weather is hot.

"Older adults who have chronic medical conditions should talk to their doctor about additional precautions to prevent heat related illnesses," urges Joyce.

A well spoken soon to be North Intermediate School student, Amato speaks passionately about her future dream of becoming a veterinarian because she "really loves animals." That love is apparent when she mentions her many pets, which include a dog, a cat, two birds, two frogs and a tank full of fish!

Amato speaks just as passionately about the things that she enjoys doing in her free time - swimming, playing with friends, drawing, coloring, and reading. She also attends Debi's Dance Studio in Wilmington and Reading Gymnastics Academy.

In addition to the required competitions, there are more than a dozen optional contests that participants can also choose to enter. These include competitions such as Talent, Spokesmodel, Actress, Photogenic, Casual Wear Modeling, Volunteer Service, Art, and others.

Amato placed in the top ten her first year of competition in the Princess Division and placed 3rd runner up last year in the Jr. Pre-teen division. August marks Amato's third time entering this competition and she will perform a dance or gymnastics routine for the talent competition and will also probably participate in the Photogenic competition, in which she placed third last year.

"It's really fun and an awesome experience. I meet a lot of people," Amato said.

According to their website, "The National American Miss pageants are dedicated to celebrating America's greatness and encouraging its future leaders. This is an age appropriate pageant. Each year, the pageant awards one million dollars in cash, scholarships and prizes to recognize and assist the development of young women nationwide."

As a State Finalist, Amato is reaching out to local businesses to sponsor her in the Pageants advertising program. In an effort to reach her goal of becoming the next Cover Girl for the State of Massachusetts she needs to sell advertising space in a program book that will be distributed on Pageant weekend. All donations are tax deductible as a business expense.

Amato thanks Debi's Dance, Analog Devices and the Academy of Traditional Karate, Bryant Glass and Dr. Mickey and Associates for their support. Anyone interested in supporting Amato may make your any checks payable to National America Miss and should be sure to enclose a business card. Please respond by July 14, 2008.

Any questions may be directed to Lorraine or John Amato at 978-657-6112, e-mail at macjl@aol.com or visit the National America Miss web site at www.NAMISS.COM.

He's been retained to design and implement a plaque for long-time Woburn Redevelopment Authority Chairman John "Jack" Marlowe to accompany formal dedication of Marlowe Park on September 10. Shure is a member of the committee to see that all goes well.

At the Civil War statue, Shure worked again with the Paul King Foundry of Johnston, Rhode Island. The Civil War statue was then taken to Rhode Island for the upgrading. "We work with him all the time," said Shure from his Salem Street studio. "We did the Baldwin statue with him, too."

Shure, a New York City area native, had lived in the Winnere section of Burlington until a couple of years ago when he and his wife, Kathy (Kathleen), moved into Wilmington. Kathy also works at the Skyline Studios.

The scope of the work at Skylight Studios begets its modest front.

At work on any given day are 14 sculptor-restorers, mostly located in a downstairs area, in a complex that encompasses some 16,000-square-feet. "We've never been busier," smiles Shure, an amiable gentleman, who works easily with major museums, schools, studios and the like.

Among his more readily identifiable works in recent years is the Cy Young statue at Northeastern (near the site of the pitchers mound of the old home of the Boston Red Sox), the Irish Famine Memorials on Boston's Freedom Trail and the Ted Williams relief at the Williams Tunnel in Boston.

Shure, who grew up in Brooklyn as a Brooklyn Dodger fan, moved to Long Island as a youngster before settling in this area. And, the question he keeps getting asked is: "Are they relocating your Joltin' Joe DiMaggio statue to the new Yankee Stadium at the end of this season?"

"As far as I know, they are," he smiles. "That's the word I get from the monument people who I'm involved with all the time."

DiMaggio's statue is in left field of the old Yankee Stadium with Babe Ruth Lou Gehrig, Mickey Mantle and manager

Miller Huggins.

The sculptor business, as is evident, is all about history.

The best the historical/public works people could recall was that Woburn's Civil War statue was last rehabbed in the early 1970s.

And Shure himself is working in a building that was once a petticoat manufacturer, a medicinal plastics plant (bandages) and a bakery - the site of a major 1950s fire with the remnants of some fire damage still evident.

At present, there is no hard-n-fast deadline to get the statue back up and all are looking to do it well in the new refurbished Woburn Common area.

During the removal process, some veteran city employees and historical people recalled the statue was last cleaned and polished in a major fashion in the 1970s.

However, at this point during the removal process, it was pointed out that the copper and steel footing has deteriorated and has caused some corrosion...so a bit more needs to be done.

Under 12 Wildcats crowned state champions

When the Wilmington U-12 Boys' Soccer team recently won the prestigious Commissioners' Cup, they were happy, but not satisfied. On June 20th, they traveled to the MYSA State Tournament of Champions, where the boys made Wilmington soccer history. The Wilmington U-12 boys' team went undefeated in pool play to win the Massachusetts Division 1 State Championship.

Coaches Jim Murphy and Cathy Foley saw a group of boys come together and bring their game to another level, but nothing would come easy. In game one Friday, goalie Andy Sutton was sick, so teammates Jimmy Murphy and Nick Distefano split keeper duties in a 4-1 victory over the Berkshire league champs, Berkshire Hills. Goals by Kory McGilvray, Nick Distefano, and Drew Foley (2) provided plenty of offense. Key passes from Kyle Souza, Chris Saporito, and Eric Grabar gave the forwards great scoring attempts. Aggressive team play from defenders Chris Saporito and Mike Diorio set the tone for the weekend.

Saturday's first game was against a very skilled Marshfield club. Wilmington struck first as Austin O'Neal scored on a pass from Matt Diorio quickly putting the 'Cats up 1-0. The team added to the lead with goals by Nick Distefano (2) and Kory McGilvray. Keeper Andy Sutton returned to action and shutout the Coastal League champs 4-0.

Wilmington controlled the mid-field with great play from Austin O'Neal, Eric Grabar, Matt Diorio and Kyle Souza. Jared Walsh forced Marshfield outside all game, disrupting their offense. A healthy Andy, crisp passing, and limiting Marshfield scoring opportunities, were the keys to another win.

Playing tough and with confidence, Wilmington would now face Brockton, a very big and physical wildcard team from the South Shore league. Playing a second Saturday match, Wilmington showed no signs of slowing down. Playing an aggressive and inspired first half, the teams went to halftime in a 2-2 tie, thanks to two pretty goals from Nick Distefano. Center defender Jared Walsh had his hands full all day with keeping Brockton's big guns off balance and away from the play. In the second half, the Wildcat speed and quickness proved to be too much for Brockton who began to wear down.

Wilmington added goals by Nick Distefano (hat trick) and Jimmy Murphy, who scored on a nice setup from Austin O'Neal and Chris Saporito. Mid-fielders Matt Diorio, Eric Grabar, and Kyle Souza help control the play with great passing, hustle, and footwork.

Sunday's semi-finals would feature the State's best teams. With over 300 cities and towns in Massachusetts, there were only four teams left. Wilmington's semi-final game was against the South Coast League champs, Fall River.

With Wilmington at full strength for the first time, the game started fast and furious, then all of a sudden the floodgates opened and Wildcats exploded for 6 goals in the first half. Fall River was stunned and never recovered as the 'Cats coasted to a decisive 6-1 win. Goals by Distefano, Mike Diorio (a highlight film goal; Kyle hustled to win the ball, passed to Drew, who crossed it to Mike thigh high into the net), Kory McGilvray and Drew Foley (2) rounded out the scoring.

The intense play of Eric Grabar, Kevin Keane, Jared Walsh, and Matt Diorio helped control the tempo. Keeper Andy Sutton was once again outstanding, making several acrobatic saves, putting Wilmington into the Championship game. After the match, the Fall River coach claimed that the Wilmington team was "the best 8 v 8 team he had ever seen".

The final showdown for the State Championship would be against a tremendously talented Wellesley club. Some longtime observers said that this was the best soccer this Wilmington team had ever played, and that would be bad news for Wellesley. Some opposing fans boasted that Wellesley had never lost a game, but someone forgot to tell the Wilmington boys, as they quickly went on the attack for a great goal by Nick, as he was set up perfectly by Mike and Austin.

Wellesley continued put on the pressure as they bombarded keeper Andy Sutton with at least 20 first half attempts. A shot off the crossbar, and a goal called back due to an offside call had the Wellesley coaches scratching their heads trying to get on the scoreboard. Defenders Chris, Jimmy, Kevin, and Mike, cleared all rebounds to limit the Wellesley chances. Kory then headed in a corner kick by Drew, as Wilmington held on for a slim 2-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, Wilmington assigned Kevin and Jared to shadow and shut down Wellesley's best player (#10). With back support from Chris, Michael, and Jimmy, the move paid off and frustrated the Wellesley player into eventually getting a yellow card.

Keeper Andy was once again outstanding, blocking shots and holding the lead. Wilmington dashed any Wellesley hope of a comeback when Nick scored on a sweet pass from Matt, and Jimmy added the exclamation point with a pretty goal on great passing from Nick and Chris to seal the State Championship.

Wilmington scored 22 goals in the MTOC while allowing only five. Thirteen boys, all working together, all playing hard, and all having fun.

The team represented themselves and the entire town of Wilmington proudly. Your State Champs are: Matt Diorio, Mike Diorio, Nick Distefano, Drew Foley, Eric Grabar, Kevin Keane, Kory McGilvray, Jimmy Murphy, Austin O'Neal, Chris Saporito, Kyle Souza, Andy Sutton, and Jared Walsh. Jim Murphy and Cathy Foley coach the team.

The Tewksbury Youth Football Board of Directors has reached a point where we have a great need for volunteers to help in the Snack Shack and other areas of the program. We have reached a critical stage in the organization. If parents don't step up and help the program, we will be forced to either close the snack shack at times or hire personnel to help run the operation. And just as we have seen in our Town Budget situation, it takes money to run a town and it takes volunteers and money to run a youth sports program. We are in need of parental volunteers for the Snack Shack operation for practices and games.

Also, there are numerous Board positions that we are looking for people to step into next year and now is a good time to step in, see how the operation is run and determine the position that you are interested in helping the program and our children.

Volunteerism is the mainstay of the Tewksbury Youth Football Program. Please step up and help us help your children.

Please contact any Board member or League President, Frank Ferrelli at 978-851-4494 or via email at: fferrelli@yahoo.com

Finally, Tewksbury Youth Football wishes to remind parents that the ever football player and cheerleader will be assigned to a team.

Thirteen locals volunteering for Pan Mass Bike Ride

On August 2 and 3, twelve residents from Wilmington and one from Tewksbury will donate their time and hands to volunteer in the Pan-Massachusetts Challenge (PMC), the nation's pioneer charity bike-a-thon. They will be among more than 2,600 PMC volunteers who come together to help raise $34 million for adult and pediatric cancer research and care at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute through its Jimmy Fund.

While the riders do the pedaling, PMC volunteers propel the wheels of the organization forward. The energy generated by the efforts of PMC volunteers is powerful and moving - literally. PMC volunteers will help more than 5,500 cyclists safely bike up to 190-miles across the state. Volunteers range in age from 13 to 83. More than 200 PMC volunteers are also cancer survivors.

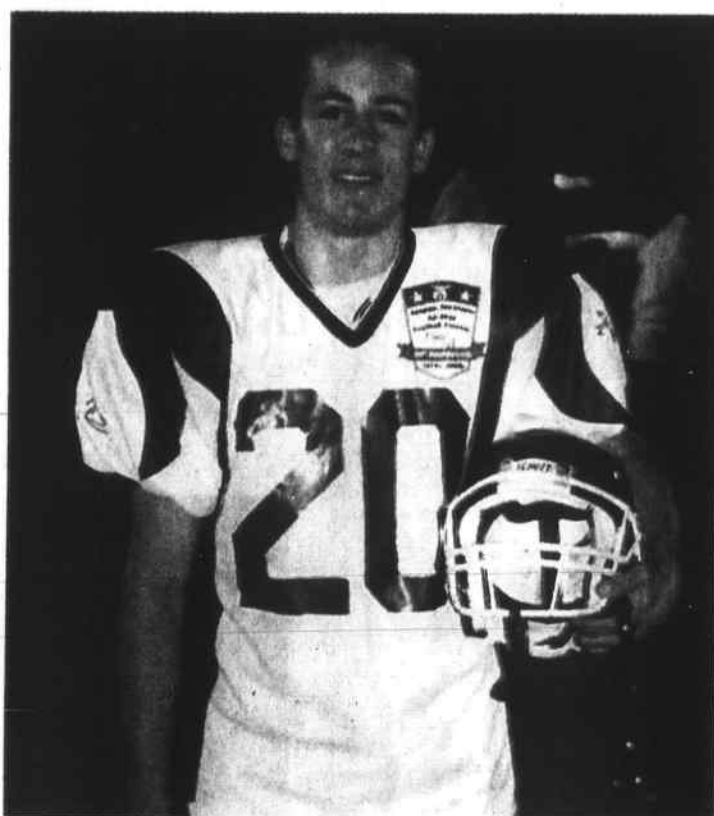

The PMC raises and contributes more money to charity than any other athletic fundraising event in the nation, thanks in part to the dedication of its volunteers. Volunteers are the frame of the PMC. They fill jobs that - in most events - are filled by paid staff, allowing the PMC to keep its operating expenses low, and thus enhancing the event's efficiency and culture of giving. In 2007, the PMC gave 100 percent of every rider-raised dollar to the Jimmy Fund. This year's goal is to raise $34 million, bringing its 29-year Jimmy Fund contribution to more than $238 million.

Volunteers are needed to help with setup, registration, luggage transport, medical support, bike repairs, security, food service, clean up, and office support leading up to the event. Massage, occupational, and physical therapists are also needed to soothe the sore muscles of thousands of weary cyclists as they ride up to 190 miles over two days. Volunteers are also given the option of volunteering on Saturday and riding Sunday on a for-volunteers-only, 84-mile route from Bourne to the Babson College finish line in Wellesley.

To become a volunteer, a virtual rider, or make a financial contribution to the PMC through a rider or volunteer from your town, visit www.pmc.org or call (800) WE-CYCLE. Checks can be made payable to PMC, 77 Fourth Ave., Needham, MA 02494.

Wilmington residents who are volunteering for the event include: Anthony and Ericka Beraldi, Doug Iuliano, Barbara and Carl Jensen, Maureen McHugh, Beth, Charles and Timothy Roney, Hyla and Peggy White and Fran Wilkins. The lone Tewksbury resident is Anne Hurton.

Wilmington's All-Scholastic running back Ernie Mello participated in the 30th Annual Shriners Football Classic recently held at Bentley College in Waltham. Mello helped the North team to a thrilling 19-13 victory over the South, ending a three-year drought for the North squad. The Shriners Classic is the top high school all-star game in the state, helping to raise donations for the Shriners Hospital for Children. (courtesy photo)

Wilmington All-Star Baseball Round-Up

By MIKE GIANNATTASIO
Sports Correspondent

On Friday June 27th, the Wilmington Little League 'AAA' Pirates team won the clinching game two of the best out of three championship series versus the Devil Rays 13-12. It was an exciting game for the players, coaches, spectators and everyone involved as the game took two days to be played as it was called due to darkness the day before.

It was a back and forth game as the Pirates had to come back from a deficit four different times to take the championship trophy.

The Devils Rays scored the first runs of the game as they got out to an early 3-0 lead in the first inning against number one starting pitcher Shane Sullivan. The Pirates struck back in the third inning to tie the game at three apiece.

A couple of innings later, the Devil Rays blew the game open as they scored five runs to take an 8-3 lead. It didn't stop the Pirates from quitting though as they again tied up the game 8-8 in the next inning.

Dave Sullivan is the assistant coach of the Pirates but he was the manager during the championship series as the regular season manager Joe Simmons was on vacation. Sullivan said that the game was incredible because the score was going back and forth every inning.

"This game was unbelievable," said Sullivan. "After we tied it at 8-8, the Devil Rays scored three more runs and were winning 11-8. We then scored three more runs again to tie it up 11-11."

"Our team was the home team, so the umpire told me there wasn't going to be another inning played after 7:30 p.m. if the game is tied. Sure enough, it got to be 7:30 p.m. and the game stayed tied so we had to replay it the next day."

The next day, game two started at 5:00 p.m. because game three was scheduled for 5:45 p.m. just in case the Pirates had lost. Sullivan said he had to go with his instinct and not start his ace pitcher for fear that the Devil Rays would send the series to a third game.

"I had either of a choice to have our ace pitcher Shane Sullivan go in for a couple of innings but what I chose to do was start someone else and that player was another great pitcher for our team Ryan MaCavoy," said Sullivan. "I did this because the umpire started the game 45 minutes early because it was a tie game game."

"If we didn't win, we would have had to gone to a third game (immediately following game two) and I needed a fresh pitcher to throw 85 pitches."

With MaCavoy starting in extra innings, the Devil Rays had their at-bats first and they ended up scoring a run, so all they had to do was hold the Pirates for the bottom of the seventh to end the game.

It did not end the way the Devil Rays wanted though as Shane Sullivan began the bottom of the seventh inning with a base hit and then an error on the next hitter brought him to second base.

Anthony Deniso came up to bat and he got a single to bring Sullivan around to tie the game. Manager Shane Sullivan then gave the sign for Deniso to steal from first to second base and then from second to third base. With Deniso on third base, the pitcher of the Devil Rays threw a past ball and Deniso ran to home plate for the game-winning run.

Sullivan said the game was extraordinary and he also added that every single player on the team contributed to the Pirates becoming league champions.

"Game two was a story-book type of game," said Sullivan. "Every single one of the kids worked as a team, cheered as a team and played like a team."

"For Wilmington baseball, this team can be the poster child for not being selfish. Everyone on the team played a key role in winning this championship."

Sullivan also added that most of the credit goes to the regular season manager Joe Simmons, who has been involved in Wilmington Youth Baseball for over 20 years and won his first championship.

"I was in communication with Joe while he was on vacation and he was giving me advice, so it was a complete team effort," said Sullivan. "Joe was always calm, cool, and collected. He gave me the option after game one of whom I thought was the most deserving to be the starting pitcher of game two."

"I said, 'Joe there's not one person on this team other than everybody molded together that I think can win this.' And he said back 'Dave, you figure it out. I know you're going to make the right decision.'"

"So he gave me the advice to figure out what my instinct was and figure out a strategy just in case there was a third game."

"He also told me before he left that he knew we would beat them two games in a row, and that was the type of confidence that helped me coach this team to the championship."

Sullivan did everything he could to get his team ready for each game. When one of the pitchers was nervous about opening up the game, Sullivan called his house before the game to calm him down.

"When I selected Ryan MaCavoy as our pitcher in the top of the seventh inning, he told one of the parents that he didn't want to pitch as he had too many nerves," said Sullivan.

"So I called him earlier that day (before the game) and I calmed him down and let him know that he was the one that was going to win the game for us. I told him I had the confidence in him, and he ended up pitching a great seventh inning that allowed us to win the game in the bottom half."

Overall, Sullivan said he enjoyed being an assistant coach the entire year, and he said the best part was winning it all since they were not the favorites. The Pirates finished in third place as the 9-3 Devil Rays and 9-5 Giants posted higher winning percentages during the regular season.

"I think the most enjoyable part about coaching was the improvement of the kids throughout the season and then the gratification of winning it all unexpectedly when there was a number of people who doubted us," said Sullivan. "We finished in third place in the regular season, so nobody expected the third place team to win it all and we did it convincingly."

Simmons said the best part about coaching the team in the regular season was watching the players progress from the opening game.

"Just watching the kid's levels of improvement go up throughout the season was the most enjoyable part," said Sullivan. "We played as a team from game one. Every kid on the team got a hit and run throughout the playoffs. It was just a great group of kids and a lot of fun."

Shortly before Simmons returned home from vacation, Sullivan had an idea that would really make the season memorable for his good friend Simmons.

"Joe Simmons' son was not there to win the championship as he was on vacation with his dad," said Sullivan. "So since Joe never won a championship before, he got the game-winning ball with all the signatures and we put a paper in the case that said, 'All we need is one more signature and that is your son.'"

"So the son signed it, and Joe was just really ecstatic. It was a great way to end an unforgettable season."

16's vs 15's

On June 22, the annual 16 versus 15 year old all-star game was played at Wilmington High School. The 16 year olds beat the 15 year olds 8-2, and the coach of the 16 year old team, regular season Giants manager Dan Bamberg, said he coached a great group of all-stars in the traditional game this season.

"When I told each of the players that they were on the all-star team, I told them it was their last game so I wanted them to go out and give it their best effort," said Bamberg, who has been involved in Wilmington Little League baseball for over 20 years. "They did just that as they played hard and they really focused to win the game."

Since little league baseball ends for the players after age 16, none of the players Bamberg coached in the all-star game will be back next season. He said most of them will continue to have success throughout their high school careers and in the future.

"All the kids (I coached in the all-star game) work hard at their game," said Sullivan. "Most of them will be still be playing later down the road."

"The kids are always dedicated and focused on working on their game. Everyone has the desire to win."

"To see the kids, some of whom I've probably coached since minor farm, progress and to see them get to the point they are now is really enjoyable."

Although the 15 year old team came up short, they never quit against the 16 year olds. The entire roster for the 15 year old all-star team includes: Mike Arria, Zach Copp, Kyle Creedon, Chris Frissore, Nick Giradi, Mike Gracia, Sean Hanley, Jeff Kannaly, John Malone, Billy McGrath, Matt McKenna, Dave Mello, Brett Muese, Cori Michals, Andy Owens, and Andrew Spurr. The manager of the 15 year old team was regular season Braves coach John Pickett.

13's vs 14's

On June 22, the 14 year old all-star team beat out the 13 year old all-star team 6-2.

Pete Otovic is the coach of 14 year old all-star team and he has been involved in Wilmington Little League Baseball for 14 years as he just finished coaching his eighth season with the Cardinals. He said he really enjoyed coaching his team in the all-star game this season.

"It was an honor to have the opportunity to assemble an all-star team and work with the players," said Otovic. "They are all great kids and are all hard-workers."

"Before the game, I reminded them what an honor is to be selected to the all-star team. They are representing their 14 year old peers, so I told them I hope they represent the rest of their classmates with class, and they did a fabulous job of doing so."

The 14 year old all-star rosters includes: Kyle Albanese, Jimmy Bonish, Mike Brent, Mike Ciampa, Nick Cirmane, Dan Creedon, Derek Duggan, Ian Haggerty, Phil Lentini, Tim McCarthy, Kevin Moriarty, John Parsons, Dan Pothier, Steve Reynolds, Dalton Rolli, Tom See, and J.B. Thompson.

The 13 year old all-stars fell up short but they all gave a great effort. The 13 year old all-star roster includes: Pat Barry, Mike Biondo, Steve Colangelo, Justin Ferreria, Wayne Knoops, J. T. Lynch, Jake MacIsaac, Cam Owens, Cole Pepper, Dan Pendenza, Matt Pickett, Sam Silva, Tyler Vibert, and James Wilkerson. The manager of the team was Dodgers head coach Dan MacIsaac.

Major All-Stars stay alive after Tuesday's win all-star team beat out the Wakefield National team 4-3 at Rotary Park in Wilmington.

Colin Doherty was the starting pitcher on the mound for Wilmington. He only allowed two hits, and he stuck out eight batters and walked two in five and a third innings. Tyler Warner, who was catching the game up to his point, came in and saved the game for Wilmington.

The Wilmington all-stars managed to score their runs from many contributors on the team. In the first inning, Pat Allen got a walk, and Matt Boutoures was a pinch runner for Allen so then Drew Foley then batted and got a double that scored Boutoures for the first run. Foley then scored later in that inning.

Jimmy Davey walked and scored the third run on a single from Colin Doherty later in the game. Colin Doherty then hit a home-run in the sixth for the fourth run.

The manager of the game, regular season coach Brian Kane, said his team gave a great effort for the entire six innings.

"I told my players before the game to lay it out all six innings," said Kane. "It was either win or the seasons over because it was a two-loss tournament.

"They are a great group of kids. There are all doing a great job. We've had a lot practices, and they've all been very committed and dedicated."

Wilmington continues their tournament on Wednesday July 9th versus the winner of Assabet Valley and North Reading.

The entire roster for the major league baseball all-stars includes: Pat Allen, Matt Boutoures, Ryan Carrocino, Jimmy Davey, John Luke-Dee, Nick DeStafeno, Colin Doherty, Drew Foley, Brandon McDonough, Jimmy Murphy, Jimmy Stein, Corey Stillings, Tyler Warner, Tim Woods. The manager is Brian Kane and the assistant head coaches are Tom Southmayd and Bob McDonough.

Burbank YMCA After School Program to offer free tutoring for MCAS test

READING - Every year students in Massachusetts are required to take the Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System Test. This can be a stressful time for students that are struggling and not receiving the one-on-one attention they need outside of the classroom.

Starting in September of 2008 the Burbank YMCA After School Program in Wakefield will provide free tutoring to after school program participants. Students that take part in the after school program will receive one-on-one tutoring in the MCAS subject or subjects that they are struggling with. "Education is very important for today's youth and we recognize that some children need more attention than others to succeed," said Mike Tinney, Director of the Wakefield After School Program. "Our goal in the after school program is to help children reach the potential they are capable of and build confidence, which hopefully will improve MCAS scores and make the testing process much less stressful for the kids," he said.

In addition to the free tutoring students will make new friends and enjoy additional programs and activities such as weekly trips to the library, drama, sports, and swim time. Transportation is provided from all of the local schools in Wakefield and transportation to homes in the evening will be provided upon request. The program is also open on all early release days, vacation weeks and snow days at no additional cost.

For more information about the Burbank YMCA After School Program in Wakefield contact Mike Tinney at mtinney@ymcaboston.org or visit www.ymcaboston.org/burbank. The Burbank YMCA is dedicated to improving the health of mind, spirit and body of individuals and families in our community. We welcome men and women, boys and girls of all incomes, faiths and cultures.

Helping Our Troops

That's H.O.T.

By PAUL FEELY

While many of us were celebrating the Fourth of July as a three-day-weekend with friends and family, members of a volunteer organization based in Stoneham are hoping that the Patriotic spirit that still hangs in the air like the afterimage of fireworks will cause us to remember the soldiers overseas and at home who defend the freedom we as a nation enjoy.

Helping Our Troops (H.O.T., for short) is a program designed to support American soldiers fighting overseas.

The Vietnam Veterans of America Fitzgibbon/McMahon Chapter 837 of Stoneham and VFW Post 620 - S/Sgt George Hall of Stoneham have joined together with Eastern Massachusetts soldiers' families, friends and patriotic Americans in general to show their support to local troops deployed from area communities by providing care packages to their units over in Iraq and Afghanistan.

"We started about two years ago, when my son got his notice to be deployed," said Walter Kopek, one of the founders of H.O.T. "It actually started with a cup of coffee one morning between Frank and I, I've known him for a few years through the V.A., asking ourselves if there was something we could do, some way we could give back to the veterans and the troops from the area. We decided we could send the care packages over."

Following that conversation, Geary took the ball and ran with, establishing the organization.

"Frank took it from there," said Kopek. "The first month, we sent out 71 packages to my son's battalion. Now, we help out about 50 groups between Iraq and Adgnaistan, shipping out about 150 packages a month. We can't believe the way it has taken off. To date we've shipped over 10 tons of goods, over about 19 months. We ship 11 months a year, not in December, because everyone is busy anyway running around. Just getting the funds to ship the donated goods to the troops requires a strong fundraising effort.

ARMY SOLDIER PAUL SODERGREN of Stoneham who recently completed one year tour of duty in Iraq and is now on his way home.

"We don't get a break from the post office," said Kopek. "We have to do all our shipping through them and the bill is about $1,200 to $1,500 a month. We hold fundraisers and take donations. We are all volunteers, and everything collected goes into the effort."

H.O.T. currently has about 90 volunteers, who meet the second Tuesday of every month.

"We have what we call packing parties," said Kopek. "We get everything ready to be shipped, and it takes about four or five hours. It's amazing to watch. Everyone has it down now and it just goes like a machine."

Kopek said the group has heard back from soldiers, who are grateful for their efforts.

"When my son came back, he presented to Frank Geary a flag that had flown over his base," said Kopek. "That was nice."

The following are some testimonials from local residents and soldiers that H.O.T. has received.

"Thank you to everyone at H.O.T. Your packages were shared with my entire squad. I'm glad there are still Americans at home that care about the troops." Justin Bedman

"Thank you again for all the support, all the other troops and myself here are very appreciative of all the support that we are getting from everyone back home." Sgt. Albert Kopek, U.S. Army (Hometown - Stoneham)

"Dear HOT Folks - Received your packages. It was Great! We appreciate all the stuff. But, far more important we truly appreciate your care and thoughtfulness. Believe me, it means a great deal to us to be remembered by you folks holding down the home front." Lt. Col. Bob Walsh, U.S. Army (Hometown - Woburn)

Kopek says that recent collections held in the Stoneham and Woburn area have given the group enough money to cover mailing costs for the next few months, but that what they need now are donations of goods the troops are looking for.

"I think we have enough

10 TONS SHIPPED

money now for a few months worth of shipping, but now we are looking for donations of items to ship," said Kopek.

H.O.T. is reaching out to the public for support in collecting items and donations needed to fulfill the wishes of our troops overseas.

Kopek says, "As of June 24, 2008 temperatures in Iraq hit 109°. Our soldiers, dressed in fatigues, armor and full combat gear, have adapted to carrying over 100 pounds of equipment while on missions in these oppressive conditions. Your generous donations will ensure these men and woman receive the much needed items to help them battle through the days, weeks and months ahead. On behalf of the 54 units and 3 combat hospitals we support overseas...Thank you!"

Movie Reviews

"Hancock"

by Paul Feely

"HANCOCK" runs for about 92 minutes but leaves us with a lot of unanswered questions and you can't help but wonder what good part of the movie ended up on the cutting room floor. Thus you get a two star rating from this reviewer.

"HANCOCK"
GRADE: **

A movie about a superhero who is surly, cynical, disdainful of his public, has anger management issues and is an alcoholic - and who would later be redeemed and transformed - would make for an interesting, if unusual feature.

"Hancock" starts out as that film but doesn't follow it through to the end.

Will Smith's summer blockbuster fails because the filmmakers - director Peter Berg and screenwriters Vy Vincent Ngo and Vince Gilligan - lacked confidence in their concept. To broaden its appeal, they crammed in other subplots to make the movie more audience-friendly.

Basically, they were catering to moviegoers who expect certain things in a Will Smith release - especially an abundance of action and special effects as well as some humor. Maybe they feared making Smith's Hancock too unlikely because it might offend his fans.

"Hancock" is not a bad movie, just not what it could have been, and flies off in too many directions.

The story starts out promising enough: Smith's Hancock is endowed with super powers, but he'd rather just lie around and drink Scotch.

When he does use his powers, he creates more mayhem and destruction. While capturing bad guys, he causes millions of dollars in damages - wrecking buildings, highways, police cars - anything that happens to get in his way.

After he saves an idealistic p.r. man, played by Jason Bateman, his world begins to change.

Bateman's Ray Embrey convinces Hancock to allow him to make over his image so that the public will embrace him.

Wonderful idea. Too bad it's not the storyline for the entire movie.

Without giving too much away, the plot goes off in another direction with the introduction of Ray's wife, Mary, played by Oscar-winner Charlize Theron.

"Hancock's" biggest problem is a lack of focus. It suffers from cinematic ADD, jumping from action-adventure to comedy to drama to superhero spoof as if trying to be all things for all audiences.

The movie runs about 92 minutes, leaving one wondering how many unanswered questions would have been resolved by what ended up on the cutting room floor.

"WALL E"

GRADE: ****

"WALL E", the latest collaboration between Disney and Pixar (the folks who brought you Toy Story, Finding Nemo, and Cars, among others) is quite possibly the best film to be released thus far in 2008.

The film is set hundreds of years in the future, with Earth now burnt to a near crisp and overcome by mountains of trash piled as high as the tallest skyscrapers.

There, working diligently at ground level, is WALL E, an adorable robot with sloping cameras for eyes and a clunky body whose job it is to neatly package all the waste we humans left behind before we fled the planet when it no longer could sustain us.

As for the human race, the outlook is grim. We're depicted as fat, lazy creatures with giant bellies and almost zero bone mass. We're like huge, bumbling infants, all grasping for foodstuffs and comfort while looking dazed and confused aboard the Axiom, a giant space ship that roams the heavens, presumably until Earth is once again inhabitable.

With only a cockroach for companionship, WALL E's is lonely. In his downtime, he collects things. He likes his Rubik's Cube. He watches "Hello, Dolly!" on an old television set and responds to the romance playing out onscreen, which only deepens his isolation.

And so when he unexpectedly is visited by EVE, a sleek and hot-tempered robot sent to Earth to find signs of life in vegetation, what he sees in her is the love of his life. He would follow her anywhere, which proves something of a problem when he gifts to EVE a plant he found growing in an old shoe.

Since EVE is programmed to immediately return any sort of plant life to the Axiom for study, off she goes, with Wall-E tagging along for an adventure that consumes the rest of the movie. Though the twists and turns that ensue won't be revealed here, it is safe to say this: While aboard the Axiom, which is owned by an evil corporate giant reminiscent of Wal-Mart, echoes of Stanley Kubrick's "2001" abound, with the movie not only becoming about man against machine, but also machine against machine.

With beautiful, detailed animation behind a script with very little dialogue, you watch in admiration at how well the story is told. "WALL E" is another triumph for the creative team of Disney and Pixar, and has enough fun to keep the kids happy, while the message about what as a species we are doing to our planet may give their parents nightmares.

it's DIFFERENT By How

"GET SMART"

GRADE: **

As an admitted fan of the original "Get Smart," a 1960s television series that satirized the espionage genre (which this reviewer saw in reruns during the late 1970s), I am probably not the best person in the world to write a review on the film adaptation of the same name.

The show starred Don Adams as the bungling yet somewhat competent secret agent Maxwell Smart, and producers or whoever decided to cast Steve Carell as the next Maxwell Smart couldn't have made a better choice. Carell, who is most famous for his fatuous Michael Scott character on TV's "The Office," is a box office draw when it comes to the younger generation and just his name alone should get a whole new audience excited to see the next Maxwell Smart adventure.

Plus, his biggest strength as an actor is playing someone who is completely inept and oblivious to everything around him, which is the character of Smart in a nutshell (Smart serves as a top analyst for the super-secret government agency known as CONTROL.)

Maxwell's biggest dream in life is to become a field agent just like the suave Agent 23 (Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson), and although he is qualified for the job, Chief (Alan Arkin) wants him to stay in his current position because he is too valuable.

But that all changes when the terrorist group KAOS - led by the sinister Siegfried (Terence Stamp) - uncovers the identities of all the CON-

Martin's Pond plans Fishing Derby Saturday

Forget about the one that got away, tell all of your friends about the prize winning fish you caught at the 11th Annual Martin's Pond Children Fishing Derby. There will be a prize for Catch of the Day as well as prizes in 3 age categories. This year's derby will be held Saturday, July 12th from 8am-11am. Martin's Pond is located on Burroughs Road in North Reading, MA - across from Shaw's on Route 28. The derby is free to attend and is open to children 16 and under.

Make sure to register at Clarke Park between 8:00am and 9:30am. If you're one of the first 75 kids to register, you'll get a free hat and surprise gift.

Don't worry if your line gets tangled or you can't get the fish off the hook. Members of the Wildside Bass Club will be on hand to help out. A BBQ lunch will be provided to all participants.

Like all good anglers, bring your rod, bait and bucket. Bait can be bought at New England Beverage and Redemption or Tedeschi's. Place fish in the bucket as soon as they're caught and bring them for a weigh in. Only live fish count. Shore fishing only.

The Children's Fishing Derby is sponsored by the Wildside Bass Club and Martins Pond Association. Generous contributions by Mass BASS Federation, Malcolm Pirnie Engineers, Renaissance Realtors - John Magazzu, The Savings Bank, Crosswell Funeral Home, Winter Hill Bank, Century 21 - Val Shaw, A Touch of Class Salon, Shaw's Supermarket, New England Beverage and Tedeschi's allow the event to be free.

TROL agents, picks them off one-by-one and devises a plot to assassinate the U.S. president with nuclear weapons.

Because there is basically no one else that can pull off the job, Maxwell is promoted to agent and is paired with the voluptuous Agent 99 (Anne Hathaway), who recently underwent plastic surgery so she can stay undercover. Although Agent 99 resents Maxwell because she is worried he will compromise her safety, the two are sent off to save the world and predictably start to fall for each other in the process.

While the 20-year age difference between the two makes it difficult to take their relationship seriously, it also doesn't help that they don't have that much romantic chemistry between them.

But that doesn't stop "Get Smart" from being funny and entertaining, and much of that credit goes to Carell. There are a few humorous moments provided by CONTROL workers played by David Koechner, Terry Crews, Masi Oka and Nate Torrence (Bill Murray also makes a surprise cameo), but Carell is the one who comes up with the most gut-busters. (One of the best scenes involves Maxwell dancing with an overweight woman to make Agent 99 jealous.)

However, don't expect to be howling throughout the entire movie. The humor in

"Get Smart" is more likely to make you smile or snicker rather than laugh out loud.

As an action/comedy hybrid, "Get Smart" is fun to watch, but there's no doubt a lot more could have been done given the material.

"THE INCREDIBLE HULK" GRADE: ***

Forget about the arthouse, very cerebral 2003 version of the Hulk by Ang Lee - "The Incredible Hulk" is a great comic book movie, the second one this year, coming on the heels of "Iron Man" (whose alter ego, Tony Stark/aka/Robert Downey Jr. even makes an appearance in this one).

An opening montage depicting the experiment gone wrong that causes Dr. Bruce Banner (Edward Norton) to transform into the massive, green-skinned Hulk when angered, and the subsequent U.S. military's pursuit of him - makes watching the earlier film unnecessary.

The movie essentially is an extended chase, as Banner finds his way back to Betty in America to continue his search for a cure, with the military always at his heels.

If you were unhappy with the first film because you felt the Hulk didn't smash up enough of the scenery, have no fear - the Hulk you know and love has arrived, ready to pulverize his way through the Marvel universe.

CITYWIDE QUILT FESTIVAL IN LOWELL

Hundreds of quilts from all over the country will fill Lowell's Tsongas Arena and area museums, galleries, craft centers and other public venues, from August 7 - 10 during the annual city-wide Lowell Quilt Festival, offering visitors to Lowell a visual feast of color and creativity.

The citywide celebration of quilts features the Juried Images quilt show at the Tsongas Arena, featuring over 300 quilts, with each prizes in several categories, including youth entries for students 18 and under. There are also live and silent auctions, quilt appraising, lectures, gallery talks, workshops, children's activities, and merchant malls.

From small to large, traditional to contemporary, hand-work to machine-work, simple to spectacular, the Lowell Quilt Festival quilts are a must see for all who enjoy and appreciate the work of highly talented and expert artisans.

Four special exhibits will be on display at Tsongas Arena: Lowell Inside/Out, a series of 30 pieces commemorating Lowell's rich textile and architectural history; Cochecho Mills Remembered, a group of quilts featuring designs created by using reproduction fabrics made from the Historic New Hampshire Mill; and segment of the IQF Journal Quilts, which have travelled the country and been seen by thousands of people; and PEACEQUILTS, a collection individually designed and exquisitely hand-quilted by Haitian students between 14 and 18 years old. The sale of PEACEQUILTS project quilts enables Haitian students to earn a living through meaningful work. Throughout the city, Lowell's cultural community will open its doors wide for visitors during Lowell Gallery Night, Thursday, August 7, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. when many of Lowell galleries and museums will be open for extended hours and will host free opening receptions.

The New England Opera Club will hold a meeting on Sunday, July 13 and the program is "A History of Opera on Film." The speaker is Rick Askenase and the time is 2 p.m. The location is Waltham Public Library, 735 Main Street, Waltham.

The history of opera on film dates back to even the "silent" days. Lillian Gish starred opposite John Gilbert in La Boheme, and Geraldine Farrar made a silent version of Carmen. When the "talkies" came Hollywood rushed in to film some of the most popular works including Sophia Loren lip syncing, and of course those fabulous operettas with Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy.

FREE WORKSHOP ON REALISM

The public is invited to a series of free summer workshops on theatre history and practice in the 20th century. "Paving the Road to Realism in the Art of Theatre and Drama" will cover the European and

Volunteer Opportunities

Helping Our Troops welcomes volunteers to assist with one of many tasks involved with this program.

Item Pick-ups:
Picking-up items and transporting to our packing location in Stoneham (daily/weekly).

Inspection & Sorting of Items:

As donated items come in, they must be inspected and sorted into different categories. Items must be appropriate for sending - no opened food packages, checking for expiration and sorting into separate categories.

Bagging:
Donated items are all placed into ziplock bags. Examples are: snacks, hygiene, canned foods in bags, etc. This protects the contents of the packages against leakage, should any part of the package get crushed during shipment.

Packing Boxes:
Once items are sorted and bagged, they are placed into the boxes. Boxes need to be taped, packed tightly, closed, taped and stacked.

Trucks and Vans:
H.O.T. is in need of local residents who have a pick-up truck or van and are willing to help haul care packages to the local post office. This also requires some heavy lifting and bending, as packages weigh between 8 and 20 pounds.

If you are interested in supporting our troops and would like to volunteer please contact Frank Geary at fgeary44@hotmail.com. Or VVA at 781-438-6066

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: What major league pitcher gave up the most home runs in his career?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•AUSTIN PREPARATORY SCHOOL SOPHOMORE BRYAN WRIGHT OF READING was recently honored for his outstanding efforts in tennis this year.

Wright was named a Catholic Central League All-Star. The Cougars had an outstanding season, going 14-1 overall. Wright is the son of Scott and Patricia Wright of Reading.

Sauter announced recently.

Mucica, Maruca and Fiorentino are among 11 newcomers on the 2009 roster. Sauter's largest class in his 14 years.

Mucica, the niece of UML golf coach/dean of MBA studies Gary Mucica, comes to UML following two years as a pitcher at Assumption, while Maruca, a catcher, transfers to UML after one season at the University of New Haven.

Fiorentino, also a pitcher, recently completed a stellar career at Tewksbury H.S., and is one of nine freshmen-to-be on UML's roster.

•KRISTEN MAHONEY, MELISSA HANAFIN AND JACQUI RILEY were three key members of the BURLINGTON HIGH SOFTBALL TEAM that won a Middlesex League championship in 2002.

All three went on to enjoy successful college careers, Hanafin and Mahoney as teammates, and now, the trio is pursuing teaching jobs locally as well.

On July 21, the former Red Devils standouts will begin another chapter in their athletic careers when they host their food restaurant? Ask them to donate a case of small packets of Ketchup, Mustard, Relish, Mayo, Soy Sauce, Duck Sauce, Salt, Pepper, Sugar, Sweet & Low. These items do not cost much by the case and most will be willing to help. Your local B.J.'s, Costco or Sam's also carry these items.

Do you have a friend or relative in Iraq or Afghanistan? Go to Stoneham Town Hall, Town Clerks Office and/or fill out the form with the service members address and how many are in the unit. It's that simple. H.O.T. will send packages to the whole unit.

Family vehicle vacations can be a great deal

You won't have to go far to figure out the best vacation value.

Experts agree that even with the rising cost of gas, the traditional family summer vacation by car costs less, is more convenient and is not as stressful as flying.

According to the Car Care Council, the cost for a family of four traveling by car is about the same as one person traveling by air.

Based on a family of four traveling 1,000 miles round-trip, the council compared the cost of flying vs. driving.

By air:
A family of four traveling by air will spend approximately $1,324 for tickets, based on recent statistics from the Bureau of Transportation Statistics. Add to that transportation to and from the airport and/or parking.

By car:
If gasoline prices were as high as $5 a gallon, the cost for a family of four traveling by SUV would be $314.

That estimate not only includes the cost of gasoline but also tire wear and maintenance, based on the American Automobile Association's vehicle operating costs. Other advantages include:

• Leave when you want from where you want
• No airport parking
• No waiting in long ticket counter and security lines
• No weather delays
• Pack whatever and as much as you want
• Stop and stretch anytime
• More and better meal options
• No rental car or taxi expenses
• More legroom and overall comfort
• No strangers sitting next to you •Need some help with this week's question? This individual pitched for 21 years.

•READING UNITED SOCCER CLUB'S GU 12-2 TEAM advanced to the semi-finals of the Tewksbury Youth Soccer League Mass. Cup Tournament on June 21 and 22. The players are NATALIE WATSON, KATHRYN MURPHY, MADELINE BURKE, ANNALISA CARPINITO, JENNNA CAGGIANO, FARRIEN KHAN, KASEY DILORETO, KATIE DALEY, LIZ RICKLEY, LIZZIE IACOVIELLO, CAITLIN CONNELLY, GRACE STROMAN, LEAH AYER, AND COACH PASQUALE CARPINITO, PAGE AXELSON, MERRY NESTOR, KAITLYN RYAN, KIERA STOLECKI AND ASSISTANT COACH RALPH STOLECKI.

•BRIAN FERRARO OF READING is training to Swim Across America. On July 11, he'll dive into Boston Harbor for a 22-mile relay swim around the Boston Harbor Islands to support pediatric cancer survivor programs at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Ferraro has joined the effort, not to honor someone battling cancer, but to recognize Dana-Farber for its ability to offer hope and inspiration to patients and families. This past March, Ferraro and his wife Michelle dealt with tragedy as they lost twins at birth.

• Enjoy the ride.

Before taking a long road trip, be sure to give your car a quick checkup. If any repairs need to be made, it would be better to make them at home at a repair shop you know and trust.

The Car Care Council is the source of information for the "Be Car Care Aware" consumer education campaign promoting the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair for consumers.

For a copy of the council's "Car Care Guide" or for more information, visit www.carcare.org.

"My wife and I live every-day with our twin angels in our hearts and minds. Their memory and spirit provide me with the focus and dedication to jump in the pool and train hard, and the determination to be a better person, a more devoted husband, and hopefully, one day, a loving father," says Ferraro. "We certainly understand the fear and pain that can be caused from loss of any kind."

Ferraro will be swimming alongside other casual and competitive swimmers, as well as former Olympians Jenny Thompson, Craig Beardsley, Carlton Bruner, Eric Wunderlich, Glenn Mills and 1988 Silver Olympic Silver Medalist Janel Jorgensen, who is also the Executive Director of the program.

"Olympic summers are always fun for swimmers as there is a lot of enthusiasm for the sport, so while elite swimmers prepare for Beijing, Swim Across America adds to the excitement by giving everyday swimmers a chance to mingle and swim with former Olympians while also raising valuable funds for the fight against cancer," says Jorgensen.

Swim Across America is a non-profit corporation that runs events from Boston to San Francisco to support cancer research at the country's finest hospitals and institutions. Proceeds from the Boston-area swims go directly to the David B. Perini, Jr. Quality of Life Program at Dana-Farber, where experts help pediatric cancer survivors with an array of issues, including long-term effects of treatment, social and psychological concerns and the risk of second cancers.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Robin Roberts gave up 505 home runs over his 21-year career.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200.

Eco-friendly from 5-8 that are energy conscious from the ground up.

For those looking to buy a new home, some builders are offering features designed to lower operating costs and save money year-round. For example, Beazer Homes is incor-porating products designed to save energy, conserve water and improve indoor air quality as standard features in its new homes.

Called eSMART, it is the first comprehensive program of its size for a top-10 national homebuilder, and is helping to raise the benchmark on eco-friendly building across the country. All new Beazer homes come equipped with program-mable thermostats, ENERGY STAR dishwashers, higher-efficiency air filters and water-sav-ing faucets and showerheads as standard features.

"Today's home buyers want to do their part to help the en-vironment, but they also need to save money," said Tony Callahan, senior vice president of planning and design for Beazer. "With our eSMART homes, they can do both."

For example, compact fluo-rescent lightbulbs (CFLs), which also come standard in all Beazer homes, are expected to save the homeowner about $331 each year in energy and re-placement costs.

Bennett Contemporary and midsize

Stone veneer wainscoting with raised stone caps and trim provides textural variety, and gentle arches add to the visual appeal the contemporary, midsize Bennett.

Families who enjoy home entertaining will appreciate the large, linked gathering spaces that run down the center. This home is also easily adaptable for wheelchair accessibility.

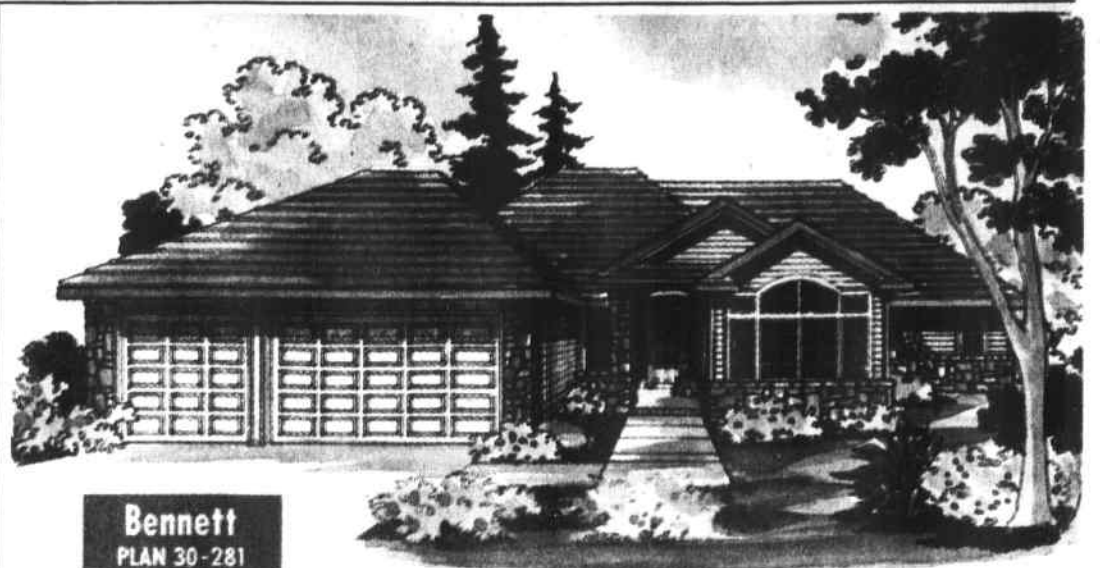

Ceiling variations help mark the boundaries between gathering spaces. The living and family rooms are vaulted, with central peaks that slope down to the sides. Sandwiched between them is the dining room, with a tray ceiling. Graceful arched openings lead out of the dining room, into the family room. Another set feeds into the owners' suite on the right, and the secondary bedroom wing on the left.

Kitchen counters and cupboards are generously supplied. In addition to lining two walls, work and storage space are available in the roomy walk-in pantry and long angular work island. The naturally bright eating nook has more glass than solid walls, and a vaulted ceiling expands the sense of spaciousness.

The Bennett's owners' suite serves as a quiet retreat. The sleeping/sitting area is large, and opens onto a small covered patio that could be enclosed for privacy. Other amenities include: a huge walk-in closet, separately enclosed water closet and shower, deep soaking tub, and dual vanity. In the secondary bedroom wing, a skylit octagonal hallway provides access to two more bedrooms and their shared bathroom, an odd-shaped utility room, and the three-car garage.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $25 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, OR 97402. Please specify the Bennett 30-281 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring more than 550 home plans is available for $15.
